

Electronic Library

I have been creating this electronic library over the years, since 2007. I am offering this to anyone that is interested in the Cadillac Prepares meetings for free.

There is an extensive selection of homesteading, survival, medical and soldier skills information in the library . When I first became disabled from the Army, I was very bored. I began looking on the internet and started downloading these government manuals and civilian copyright free books. It still is an ongoing process. As I come across something interesting I add it to the library. There is several GB of information and over 968 files and growing.

The software needed to view this information is: Word, Adobe PDF, Power Point and a video program like Quick Time or Real Player Video. If you do not have the name brand software you can get alternative software at HTTP://www.openoffice.org/ that is compatible, it is a free download.

Disclaimer: I hold NO liability for any information contained on this electronic library DVD! By accepting this DVD you are agreeing to this no liability term! Any procedure you perform learned from this information you will do so at your own risk and you will be liable for your own actions. Some of the information is graphic, showing real battlefield wounds, natural childbirth and nudity during medical exams.

This is a sample of what is included on the electronic library DVD.
